

UNSW Canberra recognises that

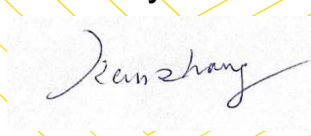

Rounak Niloy

has successfully Completed with Merit

Graduate Teaching Training Program

a 13-week non-award professional development program delivered by the Learning and Teaching Group, University of New South Wales, Canberra.

on this 20th day of October 2023

Associate Professor Jian Zhang
Acting Associate Dean Education
UNSW Canberra

The UNSW Canberra Graduate Teaching Training Program consists of thirteen 120-minute sessions, associated readings and three substantial individual assessment tasks.

The sessions cover the following topics:

- Preparing for your First Class
- Introduction to Education Theory I: Models of Teaching
- Introduction to Education Theory II: Models of Learning
- Managing Small Groups
- Assessment, Marking and Giving Feedback
- Classroom Management: Dealing with Difficult Behaviour
- Preparing Lectures for Effective Learning
- Civilian and Military Classroom Culture
- Preparing Lesson Plans
- Presentation of a Teaching Activity
- Reflective Practices and Ongoing Improvement of Teaching

The Individual Assessment Tasks:

- Notes and Reflections from Observation of a relevant class
- Lesson Plan for a 10 minute class
- Presentation of a 10 minute Teaching Activity based on the Lesson Plan